

Dear Sirs:

I would like to request no changes to Indiana's No Call Law. This law has allowed families to interact with each other without the interruption of unwanted solitications. It has given us our lives back and allows us to use our telephones for communication, not to be rude and hand-up on unwanted callers. This has been such a boon to us that to change it for a group of greedy banks would be a travesty of what our government should be doing for us. Please do not allow this amendment to pass. Thank you for your time and consideration.
